Guardian cryptic crossword No 30,155 set by Brendan

Across

5 Racket having undergone extraction of uranium in US (6)
6 Comedy that has elite doubled up in London, not New York (6)
9 Relaxing holiday for American Oscar winner (6)
10 Missing part of garment for Friar Tuck or Robin? Not so (8)
11 Trouble after judge shortened sentence to clink (4)
12 Heard about a British undergarment being misrepresented (10)
13 United States and Queen Elizabeth II, for example (5,6)
18 Coffees with no cream, as I originally ordered (10)
21 Lass hiding nothing one's put inside here (4)
22 Posse - it goes East, then West, to get these outlaws (8)
23 Status of US historically terminated, coming to pass on 4th of July (6)
24 Accessory for device in Floridian's island home (6)
25 Less than noble Brits initially gained admission (6)

Down

1 SOB I summon turned up in auto (8)
2 Extremely aware of social injustice acceptable in cowboy country (6)
3 Regret having overturned launch carrying article from this part of world (8)
4 John translated for English poet, turning up on time (6)
5 Put in enclosure or apprehend, having changed sides throughout (6)
7 Less sensible ingredient of English breakfast (6)
8 Main area separating Yanks and Limeys (3,8)
14 From a large kind of yacht endlessly make fun of infamous island (8)
15 Defining characteristic of King George's head, in fact (8)
16 Doctor in Eastern state briefly put on board (6)
17 Determine how many years in part of UK (6)
19 Kind of whisky that fly-by-nights take? (6)
20 Person making big hit, so to speak, in English sport (6)

Solution No. 30,154

